

Merchant Global Assistance is a direct and third-party sales and marketing company, that sells for small home businesses all the way through Fortune 50 companies around the world. Additionally, we sell our own products to the business end user or for a business to white label our services as their own.

Merchant Global Assistance trains all its sales agents in-house or in conjunction with one of its partners. Consistent training on all products and when new products arrive once a week by corporate and local training from a territory manager. We even help you close your deals, which is easier than ever because we offer most services a business could need and for most products, we control the percentage they pay or the price. This enables our sales agents to undercut who the business is already working with. We make it hard for you to go into a business, and NOT get a sale. As we see you grow, we even help you with leads.

Merchant Global Assistance works heavily in the financial realm, assisting in providing lines of credit, bank guarantees, banking as a service, loans, developing financial technology for the banking and financial sector and acting as a consultant.

Merchant Global Assistance provides a multitude of services primarily to small and medium sized business, as well as to their employees, with the goal in mind to bring large company discounts to small and medium sized businesses and people at large.
